About this Program

This program is designed to develop critical capabilities for newly promoted leaders who have direct reports. This program is designed to build leaders who perform well in all domains of life: work, home, community, and the private self (mind, body, and spirit). This knowledge helps create clarity around the learner's role as the leader of their team, how to negotiate and persuade others to move the business forward and support ongoing business changes. The program incorporates a proven method for producing sustainable change that can be learned and practiced by anyone interested in growing their leadership capacity.

Outcomes:

Develop self-awareness by analyzing events and people who have shaped them

Develop plans to identify key talent, coach for success, and manage succession within a team and organization.

Practice applying a systemic view to set and communicate performance expectations

Participants Will:

Learn techniques to persuade others to drive sustainable change to bring others along with you in producing sustainable change

Explore the importance of managing talent and how to coach members through a coaching framework

Use techniques to overcome barriers to change and improve success of change initiatives
